Fowlerville Community Theatre to present 'comedy' mystery Feb. 27-28

The Historic Howell Opera House has arranged for Fowlerville Community Theatre to present a 'who done it' mystery for their dinner theater on Friday, Feb. 27, 2026 and Saturday, Feb. 28. FCT is pleased to have the opportunity to perform "Punchlines and Petty Crime," a comedy caper written and directed by Matt Hughes.

The cost per ticket is $60. There are discounts available for tables of eight. The price includes a delicious buffet dinner from CC Catering, a scrumptious dessert selection, and an entertaining show. There will be a cash bar with a special themed punch.

The hilarious cast invites you to join them for an evening of laughs at The Chucklewagon Comedy Club where the food is mediocre, the comedy is even worse and Detective Lena Greystone tries to keep her sanity intact while investigating the robbery of Vinny's office safe. Everyone has a motive, no one has an alibi, and somehow the money has disappeared into thin air. Watch the mystery unfold as Lena's interrogations spiral into total chaos with stand-up routines that bomb, a DJ who is obsessed with Bigfoot and a visit from the Health Department that leaves her questioning her life choices as she cracks the caper wide open!

Guaranteed to be a great night out! The doors open at 6:05pm, dinner is served at 6:45pm and the show begins at 7:15pm.

Ticketing for this event is being handled by the Howell Opera House. To purchase tickets visit: <https://howelloperahouse.com/dinner-theatre>

Fowlerville Robotics Team members & coach give presentation at FBA meeting

Members and the coach of the Fowlerville High School F.A.S.T. Robotics Team gave a presentation at the monthly meeting of the Fowlerville Business Association (FBA), held at The Torch last Tuesday, Feb. 3. The students also provided details on sponsorship opportunities available to businesses and individuals who might wish to assist the Team in their operating and traveling expenses.

Taking turns with their talk that included a power-point presentation were the coach, Michael Dailey and students Caleb Russell (10th grade), Adriane Lawless (9th grade), and Jason Smyczyaski (12th grade). There are three others students on the team.

They are currently busy building a robot to compete in the 2026 First Robotics Competition Season—called ‘Rebuilt’—along with over 500 other teams in Michigan. This year’s game was revealed on January 10 and the team has until the first competitions on March 6 to design and construct their robot and prepare to compete.

Every robotics event consists of up to 40 teams that compete with their robot to earn ranking points during the competition season. Each team typically attends two competitions per season to earn points and tries to rank high enough to qualify for the State competition and then the World competition. The Fowlerville Robotics Team has attended the World competition the past two years.

This year’s game objectives are to gather six-inch diameter foam balls (called ‘fuel’) and shoot them into the six-foot tall ‘hub’, and to be able to climb and hang on one of three rungs of a ladder structure (called a ‘tower’).

During competition, each team is placed on an ‘alliance’ with two other teams in a match and face another alliance in the 2 minute and 40 second match. Alliances change throughout the competition and teams typically compete in 12 qualifying matches to earn points.

Here are two of the Robotics Team members preparing for the upcoming competition season. They are designing and constructing a robot and programing it to do certain required tasks.

The robots are programed to do their tasks—both autonomously and via the students operating them with a laptop computer.

This is an after-school activity, although there is a robotics class taught at the school and part of the STEM academic offerings.

Two FBA members—Matt Martin of Cedar River Car Wash and Jennifer Cruz donated money after the meeting, with others indicating plans to make a contribution. All donations are tax-deductible as provided by IRS regulations.

Contact information for team / sponsorship is on Facebook homepage : <https://www.facebook.com/frcfastteam/>.

Jacob Hodge sophomore 157 lbs, Brayden Packer 190 lbs and Layne O'Neil HWT are our Varsity Wrestling Leaders. You can count on them to be the top placers in the tough tournament schedule this year and are the mainstays in the dual competition. This group of three are the ones that set the tempo in the practice room and are separating themselves as Champions that are not satisfied with being just average. Keep up the good work and good luck as you progress into the championship part of the season.

Fowlerville Girls Wrestling Team wins the CAAC Red Championship

The Fowlerville Girls Wrestling Team did it again, winning the CAAC Red Division.

In the 2023-24 season, the Conference recognized Girls Wrestling as a sport. Fowlerville was undefeated in duals and ran away with the Championship Tournament. In the 2024-2025 season, with a shift in the lineup at the championship tournament, we won by one point.

Prior to the 2025-26 season, the CAAC changed the format again in determining the championship. The outcome would be based on the dual records of each of the three divisions. Our Fowlerville Girls won all the duals they needed to win. During this season the girls beat St. Johns 54-18, Eaton Rapids 34-20, and against Mason the girls won every match except one.

To add to the dual victories in the CAAC, the girls beat Olivet (White Division) 42-24 and Portland (White Division) 39-33 in their first meeting and 34-20 the second meeting. They traveled to Dewitt and beat them 36-36 on criteria of more pins. To add to accomplishment Dewitt won the Blue Division and Portland took second in the White Division, only losing to Lakewood by one point.

This is the set-up for the championship tournament this Sunday of seeing all the 21 schools represented in the same tournament. The CAAC Championship Tournament will be in Eaton Rapids 2/8.

The girls have set themselves up well for doing some damage there. Cayden Taylor, a past champion, is undefeated in the conference. Anna Buurma, the returning champ, is also undefeated in the conference. Kaley Murphy and Ivory Vargo are undefeated in the conference. Abby Taylor has only one loss in the conference but she has also beat the girl that she has lost to. Ava and Izzy Hertzler, Sailer Lee only have one loss in conference contests.

Anna Braidwood, an experienced junior, has placed in the last two championships and she can also do some damage. She is in one of the toughest weight classes in the CAAC but is expected to place again. Lindsey Bergin is always a threat to place with her never give up attitude. Hanly Shirley, a newcomer to the team, will also make an impact in her first CAAC tournament. We are going to miss the potential points of Emma Hodge and Alex Petty, who are out presently with injuries. It is shaping up to be a great tournament.

Our next upcoming competitions will be Individual Districts at Howell on Feb. 5th and individual regionals with the location yet to be determined.

CHANGED BY GRACE

[THE AGENT OF CHANGE]

Week 5

Did you know that everything pertaining to life and godliness in the Kingdom of God depends on faith? When we receive the salvation package God gives us as a gift, we are born again, saved, healed, delivered, and made whole. These blessings were made available to us because of the finished works of Jesus Christ, so now we have everything we need to live a lifetime of godliness.

All these things come by the Grace of God, but we must live by faith to experience them in fullness. This is why the bible says that those who are justified in God’s eyes will live by faith. This type of living includes not just acting in faith but also always speaking in faith. It takes faith to accept what God has already given us.

Religion teaches us that we must work to obtain the promises of God, but that simply isn’t true. The finished works of Jesus Christ are just that: “Finished!”

Faith in God plays a major part in the lives of those relying on grace. We are saved by grace, through faith, and this is a gift from God.

Ephesians 2:8 - Paul tells us, Grace is a wonderful thing. It is God’s unmerited favor by which we are saved through faith in Jesus Christ. The Holy Spirit ministers grace to us from God the Father. It can be said that grace is the Holy Spirit’s power flowing out from God’s throne to save us; it enables us to live holy lives and to accomplish the will of God. So our faith must be strong and continually activated.

Ephesians 1:3 - God has already blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Christ Jesus. The blessings are in him, and he is in us, so the blessings are already in our spirit. The “key” is to renew our minds to agree with what our spirit already knows. The communication of our faith then becomes effectual when we acknowledge every good thing that is in us in Christ.

Hebrews 4:2 - The word was preached to all, but they did not profit from it because they did not hear it in faith. Faith that is unimpeded by doubt is an absolute must if things are to work properly in the kingdom of God on this earth. Faith is the key to benefitting from the word, but we cannot lay claim to something that grace has not already made available.

We must believe that everything we need is available now. Get doubt out: if there is one thing that will short-circuit the effective working of your faith, it is doubt. Despite the power of God, doubt will block its effectiveness in your life. Patience: is the power twin of faith, it works to make us mature in our faith so that we may be complete, lacking nothing.

James 1:4 - Patience is necessary to help us maintain our consistency over time until we see the manifestation of our faith. In addition, faith and the word of God are synonymous, and we must clothe ourselves with the word of God. In this way, we can access healing, deliverance, and every other grace gift that Jesus has given us. Faith comes by hearing, and hearing by the word of God.

WHEN WE CONTINUALLY FEED OURSELVES WITH THE WORD OF GOD, DOUBT IS ERADICATED. WHEN ACCESSING GRACE, WE MUST FEED OUR FAITH AND STARVE OUR DOUBTS.

Letter to the Editor
Is seeing believing?
“The only thing necessary for the triumph of evil is for good men to do nothing” (Edmond Burke, 1770).
WYSIWYG: “What you see is what you get”. Americans are witnessing, before our very eyes, the unfolding of our future. The rest of the world, to our embarrassment, is watching our collapse into autocracy with disdain and a clarity that many of us fail to possess. They act with increasing resolve and determination to embrace existence without America’s King Trump.
Believe what you see! Evidence recorded by eye witnesses for the world to view. Trump’s private militia supported by the US military, following orders, have and will continue to violate the First, Fourth, Fifth, Eighth and Tenth Amendments to the Constitution. Ignoring lawsuits and Federal Court injunctions, they use force and violent tactics against peaceful protesters (First); without judicial warrants or probable cause, they routinely conduct illegal searches and seizures (Fourth); the motivation for these raids purposely results in property damage, personal injury and fear followed by incarceration (Fifth and Eighth). All these and much more are done with impunity and disregard for state and municipal rights to sovereignty and governance (Tenth) (Bill of Rights, 12/15/1791)

With bleared vision, we fail to see that these extreme actions clearly don’t qualify as actions to round up “the worst of the worst”. MAGA’s military presence, in an increasing number of states and cities, is not removing a significant number of “bad guys” and is not making our cities safer. Their presence does, however, signal something much more sinister.
Believe what you see! The seizure of voting records in Fulton County Georgia succeeded on its 3rd attempt before a grand jury. Attorney General Pam Bondi tipped us all off when she attempted to blackmail Governor Walz by offering to “stand down” if he’d release voter registration data to her; in writing no less. Similarly, other cities are fighting Bondi’s arbitrary and capricious orders to hand over their records. As perverse and extreme as the immigration “crackdown” is, it’s more likely to suggest that a military presence will be used to undermine the election results in the November 2026 election and beyond.

Novelist David Lodge once wrote, you don’t know when you make love for the last time, that it’s the last time you are making love. As history has shown and our future appears to be repeating, the November 2026 elections may be just like that. If the results are stolen or somehow compromised to favor Trump, the election, regardless of the real numbers, may be lost and you won’t know that your vote will be your last until it is.
It would be wise at this time to consider the words of a Nobel Prize Laureate, Desmond Tutu (1985): “If you are neutral in situations of injustice, you have chosen the side of oppression”.
Quietly sitting back and waiting in relative silence is not playing it safe. It’s aligning with the perversion. Open your eyes, see clearly, our future lay in the streets. 3/28/26.

What in the World is “The Jesusy” parts

By Jace Arledge

Recently in my articles, I have referenced “the Jesusy” parts and I have been asked “what in the world are you talking about?” or “that’s a new word”, “I’ve not heard that word before”.

So, let’s dive in...

I follow many preachers from the Catholic Denomination to the Evangelical progressives. One of the most straight forward and truth-telling pastors is Mark Sandlin from the PC(USA) denomination. That’s where I first heard that phrase and I almost spit out my water.

The Jesusy parts he is talking about is the emphasis prioritizing Jesus’s message of love, justice, and compassion over other, often more comfortable or divisive biblical interpretations.

According to what I have read and studied there are concepts and key aspects of this phrase.

Definition: refers to the teachings of Christ, particularly highlighting love and justice.

Purpose: Pastor Sandlin claims that these parts are totally disregarded and avoided by many Christians, and he works to explain and help bring them to the forefront of one’s faith practice.

Context: Often associated with progressive Christianity, which emphasizes social justice and metaphorical interpretation of scripture.

Source: Frequency used by the Rev. Dr. Mark Sandlin (and me!!) who IS a pastor and co-founder of The Christian Left.

So, I can hear you now... What gives this guy the authority to interpret the Bible and try to tell us what is right...

Pastor Sandlin is an ordained PC(USA) minister and a self-described progressive. He received his M.Div. from Wake Forest University’s School of Divinity and has undergraduate degrees in Business Administration and English with a minor in computer science. He currently is the lead Pastor of Presbyterian Church of the Covenant, Greensboro, NC since 2019.

I worked for the local Presbyterian church in 2018 until 2020, and as much as I wished that church was more progressive and read the Jesusy parts more often, many other churches I did have contact with were.

Ok now that you understand where my saying comes from, we still haven’t spoke about what exactly are the Jesusy parts... That’s the easiest part of all of this. They are pretty much EVERYTHING that Jesus said for us to do. Many bibles have what’s called “the red letter” words that were the words spoken by Christ. They say what Jesus said, and I believe were very straight forward. For example: “do to others what you would have them do to you...” (Matthew 7:12)

This sums up the law of the prophets, if you want to be treated fairly, treat others fairly. It’s all about reciprocity.

“Love your neighbor as yourself” (Mark 12:31) This is part of the GREATEST COMMAND and appears in the Gospels of Matthew and Luke as well. This was something that Jesus spoke to the religious teachers after quoting the Shema which is an ancient Jewish Creed from Deuteronomy 6. This was actually quoting Leviticus 19:18 and when they are placed together we look how the One who loves us vertically wants us to love horizontally, those around us, and we also see this being in parable of the Good Samaritan... Mercy is the star of this.

“Do not judge, or you too will be judged” (Matthew 7:1) which is from the Sermon on the Mount. Yet many don’t read the entire passage as it says “For in the same manner you judge others, you will be judged, and with the same measure you use, it will be measured to you. Why do you look at the speck of sawdust in your brother’s eye and pay no attention to the plank in your own eye? How can you say to your brother, “Let me take the speck out of your eye,” when all the time there is a plank in your own eye? You hypocrite, first take the plank out of your own eye, and then you will see clearly to remove the speck from your brother’s eye.”

Now that doesn’t mean that we can’t or shouldn’t share words of correction, but we shouldn’t be hypocrites. We need to be humble and address our own issues first, those same concerns in our own lives. That’s hard, isn’t it? I know it is hard for me; I struggle just like everyone else, perhaps more. Yet I work very hard towards treating others with love and making sure that justice is present. Every human on this planet is worthy, deserves to be here and is made in the image of Christ... Whether any of us like it or not! It’s not up to us to decide or determine who is in and who is out, we are all IN.

These are the Jesusy parts, not all of them, just a small example of what I believe many don’t read, understand or want to admit they exist. Jesus didn’t “hang” with the rich, powerful, oligarchs. He ate and walked with the poor, sick,

Letter to the Editor

Do you feel safer?

Do you feel safer after months of the Trump Administration’s militant immigrant enforcement? I don’t. I see the power of fear as people’s daily lives are disrupted, and a sense of safety destroyed.

I now live in a country where cruelty is accepted and if I object, I am vilified as a domestic terrorist. Exercising my first amendment right can get me killed but I don’t plan to be quiet. My voice is the most effective defensive tool against people who prefer a brutal spectacle over compassion.

I live in a county where the Sheriff is a MAGA supporter and the Board of Commissioners passed a resolution to track illegal immigrants whether they are suspects or victims. Past rhetoric from some elected representatives perpetuated fear and hate and ICE now functions at the behest of my congressman. I have dwindling faith that any of these officials would be willing to help my family navigate a difficult situation when they haven’t even offered the trite “thoughts and prayers” for the killings in Minnesota. Would it damage their political careers to disavow the harsh actions of ICE, condemn the violence or urge respect for all people?

No one opposes deporting undocumented immigrants who have committed violent crimes but too often force comes first and facts later. Frequently detainees are non-criminals who are subject to harassment, illegal house invasions and violence. ICE’s mission is defined by law, but their actions exceed anything defined as conservative or liberal. People charged with enforcing the law are now abusing it.

My husband and I carry passports, knowing that we can be stopped because we speak Spanish or have “suspicious” skin colors. If actions were truly about immigration, prejudice would not be converted into policy and U.S. citizens would not be stopped because of color.

This callous immigrant purge, along with Trump’s felony convictions and the pardoning of violent Jan 6th insurrectionists, are immoral, unethical and abusive actions that destroy the inspiration and model that our country once was to the world. Cruelty and chaos do not make America great.

prostitute, beggar, homeless, marginalized and those who were looked down on. That’s who I would rather be around, what about you?

Just to be clear, Jesus knows what’s in your heart, there isn’t any way you will “pull the wool” over them. As Pastor Mark says, “Only God, who sees into the heart and knows the future, can judge those whose true character is not publicly revealed.”

As the Youngbloods sang in 1969:

*Come on, people now
Smile on your brother
Everybody get together
Try to love one another right now*

Til then...

Stay kind and LOVE UNCONDITIONALLY

Alternative Energy

Representative Tom Barret is currently touting his “Blueprint for a Better America” plan which he says will restore trust in government by “making government serve the people, not special interests.” However, his recent streaming ads referring to alternative energy as an unreliable source and his Sept. 15th press release defending his vote for President Trump’s “One Big Beautiful Act” belies the sincerity of his commitment to serve people rather than special interests.

His press release claims that he supported eliminating alternative energy tax incentives because it “eliminate(d) unfair subsidies” which were “picking winners and losers” and were “attacking America’s oil and nature gas industries”. The most conspicuous “special interests” in America today are the fossil fuel industries. While alternative energy subsidies, when they existed, only offered an incentive equal to a modest percentage of the investment cost incurred, the coal, and oil and gas income tax depletion allowances and the expensing of intangible drilling costs can offset the income tax payable on income from coal, oil and gas production even long after the full investment cost is fully recovered.

Further, there are additional, unreimbursed costs incurred by every U.S. citizen from the use of fossil fuels, including but not limited to, added personal and public medical costs and environmental contamination costs caused by fossil fuel pollution. Despite claims of free-market competition, the U.S. fossil fuel industry benefits from an estimated $760 billion annually through subsidies, tax breaks, and unpriced externalities. These policies distort energy markets, hinder renewable energy growth, and cost taxpayers billions.

Alternative energy has the potential to transform our lives. Inexpensive alternative energy can desalinize water to relieve drought and provide drinking water to arid locales, abate global warming by extracting carbon from the atmosphere and reduce the transportation cost for delivery of food and goods to our doorstep. Further, as energy storage techniques improve, even the “reliability” limitations cited by Barrett will disappear.

The now eliminated incentives for the development of the alternative energy economy were serving “the people” by supporting a new, better, source for meeting our energy needs. The elimination of the incentives was a disservice to “the people.”

Mr. Barrett - do you truly believe that removing the limited subsidies which encouraged alternative energy development, actually “eliminat(ed) unfair subsidies”? All their removal accomplished was to further subsidize inefficient sources of energy, to the economic detriment of our citizens.

ORDINANCE NO. 503
ORDINANCE AMENDING SECTION 639
OF ORDINANCE NO. 380

The Village of Fowlerville ordains:

Section 1. Section 639, Non-residential design requirement, Chapter 6, GENERAL AND SUPPLEMENTARY REGULATIONS, of Ordinance No. 380, entitled “Zoning Ordinance of the Village of Fowlerville, Michigan” is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 639. - Non-residential design requirements.

All uses, except for one- and two-family residential, shall comply with the following design requirements and shall be subject to site plan review as outlined in chapter 24:

- a. Exterior building design.
 - 1. Buildings shall possess architectural variety, but enhance the overall cohesive community character. All buildings shall provide architectural features, details, and ornaments such as archways, colonnades, cornices, recesses, projections, wall insets, arcades, window display areas, peaked roof lines, or towers.
 - 2. Building walls and roofs over 50 feet in length shall be broken up with varying building lines, windows, gables, and/or architectural accents such as pilasters, columns, dormers, and awnings.
 - 3. Window area shall make up at least 20 percent or more of the exterior wall area facing a principal street(s). This requirement may be modified by the planning commission upon a finding that this requirement is excessive due to the nature of the use and surrounding land uses, the location of the site, or architectural incompatibility.
 - 4. In addition, a portion of the on-site landscaping shall abut the walls so that the vegetation combined with the architectural features significantly reduce the visual impact of the building mass as viewed from the street. Additional landscaping requirements of this ordinance must also be satisfied.
 - 5. Overhead doors shall not face a public street or residential district. The planning commission can modify this requirement upon a determination that there is no reasonable alternative and the visual impact will be moderated through use of building materials, architectural features and landscaping beyond that required.
 - 6. Additions to existing buildings must complement the current building design with regard to height, proportions, scale, materials, and rhythm of openings.
- b. Building materials.
 - 1. Durable building materials which provide an attractive, quality appearance must be utilized.
 - 2. The application of these standards should promote integration and mixture of materials where more than one material is used on a building. If only one material is used, architectural detailing and articulation, massing, texture, and form must be introduced into the building design.
 - 3. The predominant building materials should be quality materials that are characteristic of Michigan such as earth-toned brick, architectural panels, wood and/or native stone units and/or glass products, as determined by the planning commission.
 - 4. Other materials such as split face block, textured concrete block, textured, color-integrated concrete masonry units, Exterior Insulation Finishing Systems (EIFS), plaster, stucco and similar materials shall comprise no more than 25 percent of any exterior wall. EIFS, plaster, stucco and similar materials shall not be used where contact with vehicles may occur, such as parking areas, traffic ways, and loading areas, unless such walls are adequately protected to prevent damage.
 - 5. Prefabricated steel panels and metal roofs may be allowed if deemed by the planning commission to be compatible with the overall architectural design of the building.
 - 6. Vinyl siding is not permitted.
- c. Building and sign colors.
 - 1. Exterior colors shall be of low reflectance, subtle, neutral, or earth tone colors. The use of high intensity colors such as neon, metallic, or fluorescent for the facade and/or roof of the building are prohibited except as approved by the planning commission for building trim.
 - 2. The use of trademark colors not meeting this requirement shall be approved by the planning commission.
 - 3. Mechanical and service features such as gutters, ductwork, service doors, etc. that cannot be screened must be of a color that blends in with the

- color of the building.
- d. Roof design.
 - 1. Roof materials should be in harmony with the style and material used on the building walls.
 - 2. Roofs should be designed to reduce the apparent exterior mass of a building, add visual interest, and be appropriate to the architectural style of the building.
 - 3. Variations in architectural style are highly encouraged. Visible roof lines and roofs that project over the exterior wall of a building enough to cast a shadow on the ground are highly encouraged, with a minimum overhang of 12 inches.
 - 4. Architectural methods shall be used to conceal flat roof tops and mechanical equipment.
 - 5. Overhanging eaves, peaked roofs, and multiple roof elements are highly encouraged.
- e. Screening rooftop equipment. Rooftop equipment shall be screened from view of adjacent properties and public right-of-way. The method to screen rooftop equipment shall be compatible with the building through color, scale, materials, and architectural style. The planning commission may require cross-section details to confirm compliance.
- f. Customer entrances. Clearly defined, highly visible customer entrances may be included in the design. Features such as canopies, porticos, arcades, arches, wing walls, and integral planters are highly encouraged to identify such entrances.
- g. Community amenities. Community amenities such as patio/seating areas, water features, art work or sculpture, clock towers, pedestrian plazas with park benches, or other features located adjacent to the primary entrance to the building(s) are highly encouraged.
- h. Signs. Signs shall be in accordance with chapter 21. All sign bases shall be constructed of materials compatible with the architecture of the building(s) located on the premises.
- i. Natural features. Buildings shall be sited to protect existing natural areas such as steep natural grades, trees, significant groupings of healthy vegetation (shrubs and trees), and rock outcroppings. To the extent practical, these areas shall be incorporated into the overall site plan.

Section 2. Validity and Severability. The provisions of this Ordinance are severable and the invalidity of any phrase, clause or part of this Ordinance shall not affect the validity or effectiveness of the remainder of the Ordinance.

Section 3. Repealer Clause. All Ordinances or parts of Ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed only to the extent necessary to give this Ordinance full force and effect.

Section 4. Savings Clause. This Ordinance does not affect rights and duties matured, penalties that were incurred, and proceedings that were begun, before its effective date.

Section 5. Effective Date. This Ordinance shall be effective seven (7) days from and after its publication.

Michigan Families Deserve Accountability
in Childcare Programs

Michigan
House
Report

By State Rep.
Jason Woolford,
50th District

on thin margins and families depending on timely approvals and accurate information, these failures create real stress and uncertainty.

Most concerning was testimony that MILEap failed to send roughly 75 percent of federally required notices to families. These letters are meant to explain benefits, requirements, or changes affecting childcare access. Instead, many families received misleading, incomplete, or no information at all.

Even more alarming, the department acknowledged that a ticket identifying these issues was opened in 2017 and left unresolved for seven years. That is not a temporary delay, but a systemic failure pointing to deeper problems with oversight and accountability.

When state agencies fall short, families and frontline workers pay the price. Childcare providers already face workforce shortages, rising costs, and heavy regulations. They also should not have to navigate an unresponsive system that delays payments or ignores long-standing concerns.

Oversight is not about assigning blame. It is about ensuring taxpayer dollars are used effectively and programs work as intended. This past week's hearing made clear that improvements are needed, and continued oversight is essential.

Our Oversight Committee will keep asking tough questions and pushing for meaningful reforms to ensure MILEap fulfills its mission and Michigan families receive the high-quality childcare services they deserve.

As always, please reach out to me if you have any questions or input you would like to share. You can call my office at (517) 373-3906 or email me at JasonWoolford@House.MI.Gov.

Fowlerville FFA chapter shines at District Leadership Contests last week

Twenty-eight members of the Fowlerville FFA chapter put their skills to the test at the District FFA Leadership Contests held last week in Dansville, earning impressive results across multiple categories.

Students competed in a variety of events including Prepared Public Speaking, Demonstration, Agricultural Issues Forum, and Job Interview contests. The chapter’s performance was particularly strong in the Job Interview category, where Fowlerville members swept the top three positions, claiming first, second, and third place.

Several students earned silver and gold ratings for their performances, demonstrating the quality and preparation of the Fowlerville chapter. The competition also marked a significant milestone for several chapter members, including three junior high students, who participated in their first-ever FFA event.

Three Fowlerville students have advanced to the regional level of competition. Kaleigh Schoenbeck and Cassidy Crowell will represent the chapter at the regional Job Interview contest, while Ruby Krebs has qualified to compete in Junior High Public Speaking.

“We are proud of our members for taking risks and growing their leadership,” said chapter advisor Curtis Refior of the students’ accomplishments.

The FFA Leadership Contests provide students with opportunities to develop public speaking, critical thinking, and professional skills that will serve them throughout their lives, both in and beyond agriculture.

Michigan Governor report
By Gretchen Whitmer

Black History Month being Observed

Lieutenant Governor Garlin Gilchrist and I are proud to recognize February as Black History Month in Michigan.

This month, we recognize and celebrate the essential and powerful role Black Americans have played in moving Michigan and our nation forward. Black history is American history and Michigan's history, too. Reflecting on our past will help us continue combatting racism, striving toward racial equality, and fostering an environment of freedom, opportunity, and inclusiveness for all. During Black History Month, let's reflect on that shared history, honor the strength and perseverance of those who came before us, and recommit ourselves to building a Michigan that's more free and fair for everyone.

For decades, Michigan has consistently stood for progress, from the leadership and courage of civil rights activists to the labor strikes led by Black workers in Detroit. This proud legacy continues today through Black Michiganders at the forefront of our state's leadership, including Lieutenant Governor Garlin Gilchrist II, Justice Kyra Harris Bolden, the first Black woman to serve on the Michigan Supreme Court, and Senator Sarah Anthony, the first Black woman to be Chair of the Senate Appropriations Committee.

Our work, however, isn't finished. We must continue getting things done to create more opportunity for every Michigander. As we celebrate Black History Month, let's keep showing up for each other and pushing for progress.

Fowlerville Swap Meet will bring bargain hunters back to the fairgrounds

Almost 200 vendors and thousands of vintage and classic car enthusiasts are expected at the 53rd Annual Vintage Motor Car Club of America (VMCCA) Great Lakes Region Swap Meet to be held on Saturday, May 2 at the Fowlerville Fairgrounds, 8800 W. Grand River Ave. in Fowlerville.

Since moving to the fairgrounds over 40 years ago, the event has become an annual rite of spring for bargain hunters seeking old car parts, automotive literature and memorabilia, tools, hardware, antiques and much more.

Vendors from as many as 17 different states, including Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and the greater Midwest, will once again converge on the event’s traditional “first weekend of May”.

Considering the size of the open fairgrounds field (over 300 spaces are available), booth sizes are a generous 15’ x 30’, at a cost of $30 each in advance (early registrations must be received no later than April 18) or $40 each after April 18 and at the gate on May 2, which opens to dealers for set-up at 7:00am.

The one-day swap meet is open to the general public from 8:00am-5:00pm, with a gate fee of $5 for anyone over 12 (kids free when accompanied by an adult). A car corral for selling vehicles is also available for $20. Local Livingston County concessionaire Tony’s Dogs will be onsite all day with hot and cold food and drinks.

For registration or more information, email GLRVMCCA@gmail.com or call Rick Thomas, VMCCA Brighton Chapter, at 248-561-5506.

Fowlerville Senior Center: to Good Friends, Health, Travel & Activity

By Mark Thompson

The Fowlerville Senior Center lost a good friend with the passing of Chief John Wright, retired from Fowlerville Fire Department. Chief Wright reached out to the Fowlerville Senior Center in June of 2025 and donated a Schwinn Exercise Bike for our wellness room. Chief Wright was an appreciated member of the Fowlerville Senior Center and the Fowlerville community and he will be missed.

On Monday, February 9, 2026, from 9:30A - 10:30A there will be free blood pressure checks at the Fowlerville Senior Center. The blood pressure checks will be conducted by firefighters of the Fowlerville Fire Department.

On Tuesday, February 10, 2026, from 11A - 12P the Fowlerville Senior Center will hold an Art Class. The theme for this class will be "Creating--Butterflies, Caterpillars and Pet Rocks." Senior Center members will need to sign up so we know how many rocks to harvest. To become a Fowlerville Senior Center member only costs $25, so stop in, become a member and let us get paint on our hands together.

On Thursday, February 19, members of the Fowlerville Senior Center will be traveling to The Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn. Members will have three hours to tour The

Senior Center's Luncheon crowd with Jace and Irene dancing to the Rightous Brothers, Unchained Melody.

Henry Ford Museum and then travel to the Ford Garage Restaurant for lunch. The trip cost is $50 per member and includes transportation, museum entrance and lunch. We will leave the Fowlerville Senior Center at 9A and return around 3P.

We have transitioned the Fowlerville Senior Center's monthly "Potluck" to a "Member Luncheon." After three delicious trial meals we have decided to partner with Meals on Wheels to provide a variety of hot buffet-style lunches once a month. We can do this because of a $1,000 grant from Ranger Power that will partially cover the cost of these meals.

Our next luncheon will be held on Wednesday, February 11, from 11A – 12P with special musical guest Paul Garber. The meal will be Salisbury Steak, Italian Vegetables, Mashed Potatoes, Bread, Milk and Dessert.

Signing up for the luncheon is a must because we need to know how much food to order and you must be registered with Meals on Wheels. If you are not registered with Meals on Wheels, you can do so, painlessly and at no cost, at the Fowlerville Senior Center.

Denna Renet (McLeod) Sattelberg

Denna Sattelberg, age 65, of Byron, Michigan, passed away at home on January 21, 2026, surrounded by her family, friends, and beloved dogs, following a brief and unexpected diagnosis of pancreatic cancer.

She was born January 6, 1961, in Livonia, Michigan, to Donald A. and Patricia L. (Sworthwood) McLeod and graduated from Fowlerville High School in 1979. A lifetime member of the harness racing community, Denna and her husband ran a successful stable for several years. She later began a puppy rehoming business and, after the loss of the stable in a fire, worked as a travel coordinator for a worldwide carpet installation company, retiring last spring.

Former slave was a highly-regarded member of Fowlerville community

By Steve Horton

“Our quiet village was plunged into sorrow and mourning on Monday morning when the news passed from person to person that Charles Straws had died during the night,” was how George Adams—editor-owner of The Fowlerville Review—began the tribute to his friend and fellow businessman, adding that “The news spread rapidly and expressions of sorrow and sympathy were heard everywhere, as his death was so sudden and unexpected.”

The date of Straws’ death was July 31, 1899, with the article appearing in the issue published later that week. He was 54 years old and, as the report explained, “Mr. Straws was about home and town as usual on Sunday and seemed apparently well, except a severe headache, which he was subject to.”

His condition, however, took a turn for the worse that evening. “He retired for the night as usual, but about 11 o’clock he aroused Mrs. Straws and complained of a slight pain in his back. Mrs. Straws immediately arose and called on the neighbors who went for the doctor, and upon his arrival he pronounced the case as hopeless and that death was only a matter of a few hours.”

The article went on to state that “Mr. Straws also realized that his life in this world was only for a little while, and gave expressions of his knowledge of the power of God to save. Although he suffered not excruciating pain, the disease was quick and about 1:30 a.m., he passed peacefully away, “to that from whence no traveler returns.”

What the disease was or might have been is not mentioned, other than the headache and pain in his back.

Adams, after relating the details of Straws’ passing, again noted how highly regarded he was in the community, stating that “Although many sudden deaths have occurred in our midst within the past few years, perhaps none has been so keenly felt as that of Mr. Straws. He had been attentive to his business as usual during the week preceding, and little was thought that his kindly nature and pleasant ways would so soon be excluded from this life.”

It was then that the gentleman’s biographical information was provided, including two important facts that the townspeople would have been well aware of. One was that he was a former slave and that he was a barber. At the time of his death he had a shop in the basement of the Reason House which was located at the southwest corner of West Grand River and South Grand Avenue—the Main 4 Corners. It would later be known as the Commercial Hotel.

The rest of the article goes as follows:

He was born in Boone County, Kentucky, April 27, 1845, and during the days of slavery was held in bondage with his parents until freed by the emancipation. When about 19 years of age he came to Michigan, settling in the township of Marion, where he secured occupation upon a farm, attending district school during the winter, securing for himself an education. He went from Marion to Howell, where he learned the barber’s trade and served as an apprentice with Mr. Pritchard for some time. He came to this village about 26 years ago (1873) and engaged in his chosen profession which he continued with success until his death.

He had always been in the business alone until a few weeks since, when he formed a partnership with Morgan Vaughn, and had one of the finest equipped shops in this part of the state.

He was a much beloved and esteemed friend of the members of the G.A.R. (Civil War veterans) and his place of business was always a welcoming abode for them, with who he loved to relate anecdotes of former days and for who he had the profoundest respect.

He was also a favorite among the young men with who he associated and delighted at being in their presence. Being of a quiet and unassuming nature, he won the respect of all with who he came in contact and was always willing to lend a helping hand in time of need. It can be truly said that those who knew him most loved him best.

In 1879 he was married to Miss Lulu Brown (in Williamston), who has been a faithful and proficient helpmate. He had gained for themselves a fine home, enveloped with pleasant surroundings and which he much enjoyed. His wife and one sister, Mrs. Calvert of Howell, survive him. He was a member in good standing of Fowlerville Lodge, K.O.P.T.M (Knights of the Maccabees) which attended the funeral services in a body, together with the members of Gilluly Post, G.A.R.

The funeral services were held at the Baptist Church, Wednesday afternoon, Rev. E.P. Smallidge officiating, assisted by Rev. J.E. Ryerson, and were largely attended, the church being unable to accommodate the people. The floral offerings were both numerous and beautiful. As a token of respect all business places were closed during the services.

In his book, Fowlerville Goes to War 1861-1865, the late Richard Hutchins (who was assisted in the research by his wife Mary Hutchins) wrote that the Civil War veterans of Fowlerville “loved and had high regard for Straws,” speculating that “In their hearts they knew they had been a part of a great war that had given their friend, Charles Straws, his freedom.”

Adams had moved to the village in 1874 and, in partnership with Willard Hess, started The Review and opened a print shop. Among those he met upon his arrival was the young barber. Adams would soon after become a sole proprietor. His weekly newspaper, which he operated until selling it in 1929, has served as an important means of learning the history of Fowlerville for later generations.

By way of context, during the time period Straws was living in Fowlerville, Jim Crow laws were being enacted in the Southern states, mandating racial segregation in public facilities. These Jim Crow laws were upheld in 1896 in the case of Plessy v. Ferguson, in which the Supreme Court laid out its “separate but equal” legal doctrine concerning facilities for African Americans.

Two Webberville students perform at recent State Honors Choir

Written in collaboration with Madison Culver

This past fall, two students, Alanah and Ethan West, were selected through auditions to participate in the Regionals Honors Choir. After Regionals, both students were selected to advance to the State level. Ethan qualified for the High School TTBB State Honors Choir, while Alanah qualified for the 7-8-9 SSA States Honors Choir.

These two talented students practiced the songs their director picked independently for several months. Then on January 22-24, the students traveled to the Michigan Music Conference in Grand Rapids. Alanah performed on Thursday, January 22nd. She sang six songs: “The Little Road,” “Er Ist Gekommen,” “De Colores,” “The Castle Builder,” “Oh Soul,” and “Why a Caged Bird Sings.” Ethan performed on Saturday, January 24th, doing six songs as well: “Sound Off,” “Loch Lomond,” “Demon in My View,” “Tarentella,” “Please Stay,” and “My Soul’s Been Anchored in the Lord.”

We will later learn if Ethan qualifies for High School All-State Choir. It was a major experience for the students, with Alanah stating, “Honors Choir is a great chance to connect with others!” Ethan and Alannah worked very hard to make it this far, Webberville Schools is excited to see what they will accomplish in the future.

Webberville Spartans Sports Update

Varsity Competitive Cheer Perseveres:

On Saturday, January 31, the Spartans placed 6th at the Vassar Invitational while setting a new season-high overall score of 510.60 — a 23-point improvement from previous meets. The young squad also recorded new season bests in both Rounds 1 and 2, reflecting steady progress and increasing skill execution. While Round 3 did not see a large point jump, the difficulty and level of skills continue to rise with each competition.

On Wednesday, February 4, the team faced a tough challenge at the final C4 meet of the season after lineup changes in the days leading up to the event. Despite the obstacles, the Spartans persevered, adjusting their Round 3 and continuing to perform under pressure. Even with a lower final score, the team executed several key skills and demonstrated determination, adaptability, and grit as they push through the final weeks of the season.

Webberville Wrestling Competes at Leslie:

Varsity wrestling competed on January 31st at Leslie. Out of the 33 schools included, Michael Bialke finished in 5th place. He won 4 of his 6 matches and ended with an impressive 8 takedowns, 8 near falls and 1 tech fall. Josh Boschma went 2-2 with 6 takedowns and a major decision

Senior Spotlight—Alexis Beverly

Alexis Beverly is the daughter of Paul and Denise Beverly, and sister to Dakota (WHS ‘25) and Yazmine Beverly (Senior).

Throughout high school, Alexis’s favorite classes have been English with Mr. Belding and every history class with Mr. Katona. “Alexis may have been quiet in class, but when she spoke, her words always carried thoughtfulness and insight. Her kind demeanor and positive presence made her a joy to have in class, and I know she has a bright future ahead.” Mr. Katona says.

Alexis shared that both teachers explained material in ways she could understand, which made her classroom experience easier and more enjoyable.

As a high schooler, Alexis has been involved in volleyball. One of her favorite memories has been spending time with her friends. “I feel as if volleyball has made me so much closer to my friends and has made me feel more comfortable and confident to be myself,” Alexis said.

Outside of school, Alexis enjoys cooking and baking, an activity she finds both relaxing and creative. “I find making different foods and desserts to be calming,” she said. “You can experiment in many ways, and even if you mess up, you learn from it and can fix it while still ending up with a treat; if it’s edible.”

In her free time, Alexis also likes spending time with friends, listening to music, drawing, and reading. Friend and fellow senior Lexi described her as “a very nice, soft-spoken, and fun person to be around, even if we’re just on our phones,” adding that she has enjoyed their time together and hopes the future brings Alexis great things.

After graduation, Alexis plans to go to college for the study of marine biology or teaching.

Webberville Middle School students enjoy Valentine's Dance

Written in collaboration with Hazel Spencer
Webberville Middle School's Student Council hosted a Valentine's dance on Friday, Jan. 30th that brought students together for a fun-filled evening of music, dancing, and friendship. Students arrived eager to celebrate with their classmates and enjoy a night out with friends.

Laughter and friendship were on display at dance.

The dance featured a variety of refreshments and snacks, but the highlight of the evening was the music provided by Capital City DJs. From the moment the music started playing, the dance floor stayed busy. No matter where you looked, students were laughing, moving, and having a great time. "I had so much fun! I got to dance with all of my friends and classmates and I loved the DJ," said eighth grader Rue Snyder. "He played almost all of the requests and played some amazing songs!" The DJ made sure to include a wide range of music so everyone could enjoy themselves. Seventh grader Cassidy Schriener agreed saying, "The DJ did very well choosing the songs. This was definitely one of the best dances I've ever been to!" Many students left the event already talking about how memorable the night was. This year's Valentine's dance set a high standard, and the Student Council may have a tough time topping it next year.

Buchanan each added 8 points, while Kyle Kubiak chipped in 7 and Cole Morris finished with 3 to round out the scoring. The Webberville Girls Basketball team followed with an impressive 46–24 win over Morrice. Jolie Bryan led all scorers with 22 points, knocking down six three-pointers in a standout performance. Makayla Culver added 10 points, while Haley Proctor scored 6 points in her first game back from injury. Additional scoring came from Lexi Proctor (4), Jenna Lycos (2), and Bella Glovak (2) as the Spartans controlled the game on both ends of the floor. Both teams showed strong teamwork and energy in a successful night for Webberville basketball.

Michigan DNR Fishing Tips—

Late-season ice can shift fish locations

Late-season ice can shift fish locations, so don’t rely only on early-winter spots. Check deeper edges, transition areas, and anywhere current or structure is present. Drilling extra holes and hopping between them can help you stay on active fish as conditions change.

What to do when your loved one passes away out of state

Understanding Ship-Ins and Ship-Outs

By Aaron Franks, ‘Aaron the Funeral Guy’

A phone call I receive more often than people might expect starts with, “My loved one passed away out of state, and we don’t know what to do.” When death happens far from home, emotions are already running high, and then logistics get layered on top of grief. That’s where ship-ins and ship-outs come in, and today I want to walk you through what those terms really mean and how the process usually works.

In funeral service, a ship-out refers to when a funeral home helps transfer someone from the place of death to another city or state. A ship-in is the opposite, when a funeral home receives your loved one from elsewhere so services or burial can take place closer to home. It sounds complicated, but this happens far more often than people realize.

One thing that surprises many families is how transportation typically happens. In most cases, your loved one is flown on a commercial airline. Yes, regular passenger planes transport human remains every single day, quietly and respectfully, and most travelers have no idea it’s happening. Airlines have very specific protocols for this, and funeral homes coordinate every step to ensure everything is handled properly.

Generally speaking, but not always, embalming is required when a body is being transported by air. Embalming helps preserve the body during transit and meets airline and health regulations. However, there are exceptions. If a family’s religious beliefs prohibit embalming, shipment can often still occur using dry ice instead. This is something that must be coordinated carefully and quickly, but it is absolutely an option in many situations.

How your loved one is prepared for flight also depends on whether a casket has been purchased at the shipping funeral home. If no casket is selected, the body is typically placed in what’s called a combo unit. This is a container that serves as both a casket and a shipping container. This is functional, dignified, and designed specifically for transport, but you should keep in mind that this is not a casket. It is made of cardboard. If a casket has been selected, then an air tray is used. An air tray is a reinforced shipping container that surrounds and protects the casket during flight.

Another piece of the conversation that’s important to at least mention is travel insurance. There are policies available, sometimes purchased separately, sometimes included with certain travel plans, that will cover the cost of transporting a loved one home if a death occurs while traveling. Many families don’t realize this exists until it’s too late, and it can make a significant financial difference in an already difficult moment. I won’t go too deep into that here, but I do plan to break this down more thoroughly in a future article because it’s something worth understanding before you ever need it.

Here’s a piece of advice I give every family in this situation, and it often surprises them: when a death occurs out of state, I strongly recommend calling the receiving funeral home first; the one near where services or burial will ultimately take place. Many times, that funeral home can make the initial call to the funeral home where the death occurred. When funeral homes coordinate directly with one another, it’s often, but not always, handled as what’s called a trade call, which can save families a significant amount of money. It also removes a layer of stress from the family, because professionals who do this every day are communicating directly.

Families often feel like they need to start making decisions immediately, but the truth is, you don’t have to navigate this alone or figure it out as you go. A good funeral director will slow things down, explain the process, and make sure your loved one is brought home, or cared for where they passed, with dignity and respect.

Ship-ins and ship-outs aren’t something most people ever expect to deal with, but when they’re needed, understanding how they work can bring a lot of peace of mind. My goal is always to make a difficult situation feel just a little less overwhelming by replacing uncertainty with clear, honest information.

If you ever find yourself facing this situation, or if you have questions about what happens when a death occurs out of state, please don’t hesitate to reach out. I’m always here to help guide you through the unknown. You can email me any time at aaronthefuneralguy@gmail.com

All Things Good

By Susan Kretchman

I can still see her bright smiling face. The year was 1983 and I had been hospitalized for observations with my high risk pregnancy. A routine glucose test in my sixth month rewarded me with almost a week under scrutiny to determine my medical plan to keep my levels in healthy range. That’s when I met her, an older black woman who cleaned my room. She was very meticulous and everything I could observe about her caused me to realize she truly loved her work, which to me—a mere onlooker—automatically caused me to wonder if after a long day cleaning hospital rooms, did it wear her out? Her answer, wrapped in that beautiful smile revealing bright teeth that accompanied the glow on her face, said it all.

“Oh, no, quite the opposite. I get SO much satisfaction when I clean a room. I lean back on my mop and say to myself ‘my, my, my, ain’t that purty?’”

I’m ashamed I don’t remember her name, but as I said, I’ll never forget her smile, her pride in being purposeful and joyful as she went about her duties with not merely my room, but several others, too. And she did it every day, and judging by her age, for a good stretch of years.

Purpose. I wrote about that a few weeks ago and I entertained a thought to revisit this word. I was drawn to Genesis Chapter

1 which gives us the account of creation. It doesn’t take long to read this chapter which records God’s work, taking six days to form everything we see, touch, and smell—and those things beyond like far away galaxies! In addition God gave a command on the fifth day for all creatures in the sea and birds of the air to be fruitful and multiply. Later, this same command is given to Adam and Eve—after being blessed by Him! Purpose.

Upon completion each of those six days God declared that “it was good”. Yet, included in His kind of leaning back and looking over everything He had accomplished, He emphasized that His work was “VERY good”.

A bit of digging taught me—teaches all of us—that the Hebrew word for “good” is tov. It means beautiful, functional, harmonious, and beneficial. EACH part of creation fulfilled its purpose. In the Hebrew which was expanded by Him saying His work was “very good” —tov mo’ed—we learn that what He had made was completion and perfection of an entire interrelated system. Wrap your mind around that for a quick moment.

In Chapter 2 of Genesis we read the account of man’s creation, how God gave Adam purpose by having him work the garden. He got to name ALL the creatures on earth! It’s here also we see God saying “it’s not good for man to be alone”. Thus, Eve is formed from Adam’s rib. Marriage between a man and a woman is established by God, and their purpose is to be “fruitful and increase in number” (verse 28) Purpose.

Sadly, everything that God called “good” or “very good” has come under attack due to the sinful nature of man. Admittedly, there’s not enough room in one article to articulate the destruction and eroding of God’s beautiful beginning in Eden, arriving to our world as we know it today. Man has done a good job of counteracting everything to no longer be 100% beautiful, functional, harmonious, or beneficial. Schemes and selfish motives have robbed us of the interrelated system that God put in place for us until sin entered through Adam and Eve. But God!

Nothing comes to God as a surprise or a declaration of “whoa, I didn’t see that coming!” Because He is all knowing He had a plan when things fell apart. There’s no real answer for how long between Adam and Eve being placed in the garden before satan came to have a chat, eventually leading them into darkness. Was it 10 days? A 100? Was it 100 years? What answer does matter is that Jesus and a plan of redeeming us was already in place. I believe that God—as a triune God—Father, Son and Holy Spirit wrote that plan before verse one in Chapter 1...’In the beginning....”

Purpose. Today, and anytime for that matter, take a good look around you. Everything you see, touch, and smell was created. It all has purpose. It all was called “good” thousands of years ago. Six days of work was called “very good” and you, me, all of mankind is included in that declaration! Like the wonderful woman who cleaned my hospital room, we, too, can lean back now and declare to God regarding what we observe and say “my, my, my, ain’t that purty?” And good.
